

FEDERATION FOR THE HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

FÉDÉRATION
DES SCIENCES
HUMAINES

Congress Advisory Committee on Equity, Diversity, Inclusion and Decolonization (EDID)

Dr. Marie Battiste
Professor Emerita
University of Saskatchewan

Dr. Marie Battiste holds the position of Professor Emerita at the University of Saskatchewan, and is Mi'kmaq from the Potlotek First Nation. She is also a Fellow of the 2019 Pierre Elliott Trudeau Foundation, advancing scholarship in the theme of power and knowledge. She is an honorary Officer of the Order of Canada, an elected Fellow to the Royal Society of Canada, and has four additional honorary doctorate degrees (St. Mary's University, University of Maine at Farmington, Thompson Rivers University and University of Ottawa).

Dr. Battiste's widely cited authored publications include Decolonizing Education: Nourishing the Learning Spirit (Purich/UBC Press, 2013) and Protecting Indigenous Knowledge and Heritage: A Global Challenge (Purich Press/UBC Press, 2000). She has edited several collections, including Visioning Mi'kmaq Humanities: Indigenizing the Academy (2016); Living Treaties: Narrating Mi'kmaq Treaty Relations (2016); Reclaiming Indigenous Voice and Vision (2000); and First Nations Education in Canada: The Circle Unfolds (1995). She has also guest edited several journals, including Canadian Journal of Native Education, Canadian Race Relations' Directions, and the Engaged Scholar Journal.